Hello, I am calling today on behalf of Reform for Nebraska's Future a coalition working to support property tax reform in Nebraska.

High property taxes are a problem. Nebraska property owners have seen property taxes increase by 60 percent over the past decade and some are currently seeing increases as high as 800 percent from last year. If you are tired of high property taxes that increase with each passing year, please consider contacting Governor Ricketts. Tell him that property tax reform needs to be THE PRIORITY. Lawmakers are considering a number of bills that would reduce the high dependence on property taxes by creating more balance.

Please PRESS 1 to tell Governor Ricketts that high property taxes are THE PRIORITY.
